

ANJALI KATARIA

Indo-US Foundation for Science and Society

1993 Global Fellow

PERSONAL BIO

Anjali Kataria was Conformia's founding President and CEO, growing the company from inception to release of the first PCM platform and product before moving into the role of Chief Marketing Officer. Anjali's experience includes research, compliance, and investigation experience from service in two government agencies, as well as bench research on a precursor to the Epigenesis platform for asthma therapeutics at ECU School of Medicine. Previously, at the Advisory Board Company, she gained experience in sales and business development of Best Practices Research on a variety of Clinical Business Performance Improvement topics, including Cardiology and Oncology. Anjali received an AB from Duke University (Terry Sanford Institute of Policy), where she attended college on a full four year BN Duke Merit Scholarship and concentrated her studies on biomedical and health care policy.

Organization/Fellow Location

Chevy Chase, United States

Impact Location

Asia

India

Organization Structure

Nonprofit

