Students Active For Ending Rape (SAFER)

2003 Global Fellow

BIG BOLD IDEA

Improve sexual assault prevention and response efforts on campuses by providing training and support for college students.

ORGANIZATION OVERVIEW

Students Active for Ending Rape (SAFER) provides organizing training and support to college and university students so that they can win improvements to their schools' sexual assault prevention and response activities. By offering students the necessary support, resources, confidence-building, and leadership training, SAFER empowers student activists to rally the community and push school administrations to take action. Through these efforts, students across the country are building a larger movement that will have widespread effects on the perception and response to sexual violence on a societal level.
