BIG BOLD IDEA

Unlock economic mobility and break cycles of incarceration for justice-impacted individuals by deploying a virtual life assistant digital platform that empowers them to navigate jobs, social services, healthcare, and reentry.

ORGANIZATION OVERVIEW

Untapped Solutions is a technology company building tools to help underserved communities reclaim their futures. Designed by and for justice system-impacted individuals, the platform unites case management, workforce development, and reentry support. Through its AI-powered client portal, individuals can access job referrals, service navigation, resume building, and real-time caseworker support, streamlining the journey from incarceration to independence. Deployed across correctional facilities, shelters, hospitals, and nonprofits, Untapped Solutions redefines what tech-for-impact looks like. Its backers include Google.org, Robin Hood, and the Mellon Foundation. Untapped Solutions envisions a world where technology drives equity — not exclusion — and every person has the tools to rise.

PERSONAL BIO

Andre Peart is the founder and CEO of Untapped Solutions. Through his work, he is committed to leveraging technology to drive systemic change. Andre has successfully built Untapped Solutions into a trusted platform serving nonprofits, government agencies, and justice-impacted individuals. Andre's journey into this work is deeply personal. After experiencing incarceration firsthand, he recognized the overwhelming challenges individuals face when re-entering society. With a background in social work and sales, he combined his expertise with lived experience to develop a solution that increases economic mobility and equity for marginalized communities.
