

KATYA KOMISARUK

Collective Legal Services

1993 Global Fellow

PERSONAL BIO

Katya Komisaruk works at the Just Cause Law Collective, a nonprofit Oakland, California, law firm that specializes in defending and advising protestors engaged in civil disobedience tactics. She is perhaps best known for her successful defense of hundreds of demonstrators arrested during the 1999 World Trade Organization meeting in Seattle. A Harvard-educated lawyer, Komisaruk can speak with authority on the repercussions of civil disobedience.

Impact Location

North America

United States

Organization Structure

Nonprofit