

MATTHEW LEE

Inner City Public Interest Law Project

2000 Global Fellow

BIG BOLD IDEA

Secure financial and banking resources for low-income American families by providing advocacy and legal representation on banking issues affecting underserved and low-to-moderate income communities.

ORGANIZATION OVERVIEW

Inner City Public Interest Law Project secured financial and banking resources for low-income American families by providing advocacy and legal representation on banking issues affecting underserved and low-to-moderate income communities.

PERSONAL BIO

Matthew Lee is an American public interest lawyer, author, and founder of two non-profit organizations, Inner City Press and Fair Finance Watch. Both are known for their investigations of the banking industry's treatment of low-income communities of color around the world. Lee is the author of the non-fiction book Predatory Lending: Toxic Credit in the Global Inner City and the novel Predatory Bender. Lee is also an accredited journalist at the United Nations. excerpt from http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Matthew_Lee

Organization/Fellow Location

New York City, United States

Impact Location

North America
United States

Organization Structure

Nonprofit

VISIT WEBSITE ➔